

BRANSON POLICE DEPARTMENT

PRESS RELEASE

March 1, 2009

Police ticket restaurants serving liquor to minors

On Friday evening, the Branson Police Department conducted random compliance checks of restaurants and bars serving alcohol, to determine if bartenders and wait staff are verifying that the purchaser is of legal age to buy alcohol. Officers worked with the assistance of four minors to conduct spot checks of forty four businesses, finding that clerks in thirty of the businesses checked identification or accurately enforced the Missouri age restriction of being at least 21 years old to purchase alcohol. The minors working with officers were able to purchase alcohol in fourteen of the forty four locations. (Attached is a log sheet showing those establishments checked and the results from each.)

Citations for the sale of intoxicants to a minor were issued to those clerks violating the liquor code.

Compliance checks will continue as we work toward obtaining total compliance with liquor laws. While not every establishment selling alcohol will be checked each time the program is conducted, all may expect to be checked at any given time as we continue to work toward this goal.
